

Announcing: ACCC® Pre-Bid ServiceSM

CTC Global announces a new service for utilities and high voltage transmission line owners or EPCs that are planning to participate in conductor installation bids.

Increasingly, transmission projects are specifying ACCC transmission conductor and potential installers may be unfamiliar with the installation requirements for ACCC. This service, designed for delivery to prospective contractors, will present a short CTC and ACCC history and an overview of the product and its installation requirements and techniques for efficient and successful application. The presentation includes required equipment and methods, a conductor hardware section, and a formal question and answer process, the Pre-Bid Service is intended to assist the prospective bidder to prepare an accurate and competitive installation bid.

What?

The Pre-Bid Service presentation emphasizes required installation equipment specifications and covers the basics of the conductor and reel handling and installation methods. A copy of the ACCC® Installation Guidelines is provided for each attendee.

Why?

World-wide, installations of ACCC continue to expand, meeting a variety of installation challenges from adverse environmental conditions and obstructions to long spans and crossings. Still, many contractors have not yet worked with ACCC and there are a few critical elements for reliable and efficient installation. This service is designed to deliver that information and provide certainty for those responsible for estimating and preparing installation bids.

Who?

The presentation is delivered by a CTC Global Master Installer, with many years of ACCC installation experience in a wide variety of applications, backed by extensive background in high voltage line construction. The presenter is able to field any technical questions that may arise during the session. Project costing, procurement, and planning personnel will all benefit from attendance, as will project management and front-line supervisors.

When?

Anytime and anywhere that uncertainty exists around the installation of ACCC. If the request for quote is officially open, we are careful to respect the fairness and equal opportunity spirit usually inherent in such RFQs, and therefore record and publish all questions and answers, through the client.

The presentation and Q&A session only requires 1-2 hours, depending on need for translation (the service is available in English and Spanish) and is easily incorporated into a more comprehensive presentation for prospective bidders.

How Much and How?
